Health Disclaimer:

This baby chinchilla(s) is to the best of my knowledge, healthy and ready for a long lifetime of fun with you and your family. However, since they are small animals they can become ill relatively quickly. Infections, eye disorders, etc. can be treated if caught in a timely manner. Please monitor their stools, since this can tell a lot about their overall health. If you are unsure about anything, feel free to contact me or your local exotic vet!

Please sign below to acknowledge that you understand the notes above about fur usage and health disclaimer.
